METAWELL

RLX BrainGym™ (formerly RLX Satori) is a zero-gravity lounger with powerful, evidence-based technology to train your brain to relax, recharge, and reset. Through patented binaural vibroacoustics, tactile sound, and synchronized binaural audio frequencies, it guides brainwave patterns into states of deep relaxation, meditation, deep sleep, and heightened focus. With 40 targeted programs, BrainGym™ supports mind-body recovery and longevity through mental clarity, sleep optimization and behavioural change.
Much like meditation, it synchronizes body and mind, without any effort. This unique combination of mental and physical stimulation has been clinically proven to reduce the symptoms of stress and anxiety— while also helping individuals develop healthier neural pathways and sustain calmer, more balanced lives.

Trusted by leading hotels, wellness and longevity centers, clinical health facilities, therapy and rehabilitation clinics, this mental fitness lounger is also versatile in design and application. Equally at home in a luxury spa lounge, a doctor’s office, or as a touchless wellness treatment in private residences, it delivers a complete mind–body recovery with transformative power and impressive results.

THE TECHNOLOGY: All BrainGym™ programs utilise audio vibrations, or sine waves, embedded into a multilayered sound technology called Quantum Harmonics™. These sound frequencies, when precisely delivered, create synchronization between the brain’s left and right hemispheres.

This hemispheric synchronization results in a quieting of the mind, allowing deep relaxation, meditation, and dreamless sleep to occur. Through repeated use, this entrainment process allows new neural pathways to be created, promoting lifelong behaviour changes.
