thermabliss
Spa Collection

New compact heat chamber available in Espresso, White or Natural finish. Operates vertically with natural mineral heater pouch, activated with tap water, to melt Thermabliss Paraffin Hands and Feet treatments (purchase separately).
The advanced thermabliss® Technology has successfully broken the chain in the prior technology carbon footprint by developing sustainable natural mineral energy from Earth's basic mineral elements and water. Globally, this patented blend of three of Earth's most prevalent minerals – iron, magnesium, and salt– has generated safe, portable heat lasting up to 90-minutes for professional thermal wellness treatments, while enhancing luxury spa and salon client experiences, since 2005. Care and concern for our planet has been taken into consideration in the design and fabrication of our products. thermabliss patented self-heating energy composition called Lava Gel®, is powered by natural minerals and activated simply by fresh water. It is no longer necessary for heated spa services to consume electricity that causes fossil fuels to be burnt into the atmosphere to produce that required electricity. After use, approximately 98% by weight of the products is compostable and water soluble. The products are sanitary and easy to disinfect, client-exclusive and specifically designed with ecograde, thin-film materials to reduce the footprint of plastic usage, and use cultivated wood and sustainable items in fabrication wherever possible. The products are considered vegan friendly, cruelty free and 100% free from animal or animal derived components. Advanced thermabliss® Technology reflects continued commitment to sustainable, earthfriendly commerce and we are rapidly earning the reputation for being the gold standard in self-heating, client-exclusive, portable spa services.
