The Mandakini is Esthetica's indoor chaise lounger — meticulously crafted from solid wood using traditional tenon and mortise joinery, and designed for the relaxation areas of premium spas and wellness facilities. Its ergonomic wave-shaped surface follows the natural contours of the body, cradling guests in a position of effortless comfort from the moment they settle in. Clean in form, warm in material, and built to last — the Mandakini is as refined in its construction as it is in its presence.
