WOODWAY

You will appreciate the smooth and comfortable running surface and you will appreciate making the most of your floor space and spending time on everything but maintenance. The Woodway patented running surface is unlike any other and the Mercury is near silent. The Mercury's running surface provides ample space for users and best of all there is no hood, your members can utilize the full running surface with a totally natural gait pattern. Lasting up to 150,000 miles without a single belt change or deck swap the Slat Belt running surface was designed to make up for conventional treadmills shortcomings, most notably wear and friction. There is no need to adjust and tension the belt, our design utilizes tracking rollers and a toothed pulley. The result, the lowest maintenance and lowest total cost of ownership of any treadmill.
