Swell

SwellSpa is a therapeutic sound app designed for the hotel and spa industry, for use in treatment rooms, for relaxation and in bedrooms. Created by the award-winning Swell

Studio comprising musicians, music psychologists and sound therapists, it enables purpose-driven, end-to-end 'sound treatments' that are choreographed to the customer taste or treatment menu, ensuring a distinct, unique, and personalised sound experience every time.

Simple to use, the app utilises cutting edge generative music technology to create soundscapes that transport the listener to beautiful places around the world, delivering four scientifically-tested therapeutic outcomes:

* Deeper Relaxation
* Increased Emotional Uplift
* Higher Connection with Nature
* Better Sleep

The duration of each soundscape is adaptable and is novel on every listen - raising the bar compared with the typical spa music playlists. Sounds can be choreographed to match the duration and intensity of each treatment and deliver a novel listening experience on every listen, meaning no more listener fatigue.

Setting Up:

SwellSpa can be installed via iPads in treatment rooms, personal listening stations in relaxation rooms, integration with an existing set up, on vibracoustic sound resonance furniture and more. These are supported with workshops, training, on-boarding, and continual support through the process.

Can be easily used with both and other Oakworks treatment tables, as well as with
