

A revolution in professional skincare application.

The ORB is unique – incorporating beautiful ‘on-trend’ with total functionality. The ORB upgrades treatments without the need to change the treatment menu.

Heating products in around 15 minutes the ORB gives the confidence and pleasure of optimum temperature for up to an hour – remote from the base station and free from power cords.

Jane Scrivner, founder of The Beauty ORB, says

“You can totally forget about temperature control, because you know it’s going to be perfect every time, one less thing to think about so more time to focus on your client and delivering an amazing treatment – watch them sink deeper and deeper with each brush stroke – it’s like you are painting on pure relaxation!

Unique, luxury, warm brush application:

The deeply relaxing brush application feels like blades of warmth are flowing over your skin, seamlessly melting in the skincare. Painting product and temperature.

Reliable heat in the palm of your hand:

ORB temperature reliability means your focus is on your client 100% of the treatment, you no longer having to 'temperature test' on wrists or hands.

Therapeutic benefits of applying warmed skincare products –

- Reduces product viscosity by up to 75%
- Vasodilation – Enhanced blood circulation
- Increase product absorption

Portable:

Once charged, ORB is designed to work OFF the docking station, allowing the therapist to put down and pick up whenever or wherever during the treatment time.

The ORB comes with two specially designed metal based removable product cups that simply click into the ORB heat chamber.

This makes preparing in advance or applying different products during a treatment a clean and simple process.

Alternatively the product cup can be replaced with the appropriate pre-filled ORBserts.

The ORB is economical, allowing a better level of 'portion control' per treatment with reduced wastage and cross contamination issues.

Light cycle to informed of temperature status:

ORB light system will 'talk' to you during use, single pulse flashing during heat up, solid when ready and with a double 'heart beat' flash to warn you when 10 minutes of perfect heat remain.

While on dock the system will react to a cold cup or new product being added, returning to single pulse flashing until the product returns to the ideal temperature.

Unique heat store technology:

The ORB uses a patented heat store system, without the need for batteries, to capture the heat energy during the heat up time and release it slowly to ensure optimum temperature.

Electronic Micro Processor:

Gives precise temperature control and intelligent light indication.

The ORB is designed to heat oils and masques to the perfect temperature for delivery direct to face.

It can be held close to the point of application so no cooling occurs and even when all the product has been applied the brush can still be warmed on the base of the ORB cup to continue to deliver brush full of warmth to the skin (empty brush technique).

Most facial balms can be melted for application in the ORB. Balm cleansers can be melted and applied at the very start of the treatment to create a unique 'warm cleanse'.

Balm treatments can be melted and 'layered' to give deep absorption and a richer feel.

The ORB cup can hold up to 35ml of product. Using the SLOW brush application technique this gives the perfect amount for a full body massage.

The SLOW action means the oils 'sink' deep into the skin whilst warming the muscles and reducing the effleurage time needed.

This gives a different and new sensation for the client and a unique dimension to the treatment, with enhanced treatment results, deeper relaxation, increased circulation, luxurious hydration.

SPA PLIANCE

The ORB is quite literally the global ‘go-to’ small area wax heater of choice.

Perfect for small areas of hair removal, for example eyebrows, lips, underarm, etc.

The ORB can be removed from the docking station and held close to the client for ease of application.

The ORB melts wax perfectly and keeps it warm enough to be pliable and accurate for the therapist and pleasant feeling for the client.

Maintaining the constant temperature is key and the ORB avoids the fluctuations associated with other wax heaters.

The ORB is a truly multi use appliance that can form the basis for a complete treatment or a luxury addition to an existing protocol.

Here are just a few examples of some other luxury add-ons:

- painting warm oils along the spine before any back massage giving a feeling of sinking deeper into the massage couch whilst warming the core body
- along the tops of shoulders before any back Neck and Shoulder service, adds a luxury dimension to what is normally considered a 'practical' treatment –warms, relaxes and prepares muscles
- Paraffin wax 'foot warmer' when clients arrive with cold feet, giving instant relaxation
- painting facial oils from the centre of the forehead out and down to temples, holding the loaded brush on the third eye at first –creating a deeply relaxing facial massage
- use the ORB to paint 'Specific Treatment Areas' i.e. Anti Cellulite or DETOX oils on hips and thighs
